3. Approval of minutes/Matters Arising

The confidential minutes from the Extraordinary Full Governing Body meeting (XFGB) on 9 May 2019 were agreed and signed by the Chair, Dr Clements.

Miss Ellis highlighted that, as stated in the Learning Improvement Plan (LIP), a working party/panel was needed for the recruitment process of a new Head and this required an uneven number of Governors and someone to lead the panel. As not all Governors were in attendance the composition of this panel was deferred until the September 2019 FGB meeting. In order to ascertain what support county could provide on the recruitment process, at what timescales and at what potential cost, Dr Browning agreed to speak to Paul Gibb – School Improvement Advisor.

6.20 Dr Reading arrived (having sent her apologies in advance for her lateness)

5. Governing Board matters

Dr Clements thanked Mrs Wakelin for her long service as a Governor of the school and also thanked Dr Browning for her time as Head.

Due to the current number of Governors it was decided that an official mentor could not be allocated to Mrs McPhail at this time, but support would be provided as and when required.

Miss Ellis informed the FGB that any Governor could self-nominate for either the role of Chair or vice chair and the 'election' process would be carried out at the September 2019 FGB. Mrs Wakelin expressed her thoughts that Dr Reading would make an excellent vice Chair; Dr Reading agreed to consider this.

6. Heads Report

FGB went through this previously issued report, and a few minor queries were raised; Dr Clements checked that the statement which said in phonics pupil premium children were better than non-pupil premium was correct, Dr Browning said this was so and Mr Poultney commented that this was not a trend. It was highlighted that 'Free school meals' children had poorer results for Age Related Expectations and this would be focussed on next term.

Dr Browning reported that unfortunately the holiday club would not be operating over the summer as the provider had insufficient staff to cover the school due to their popularity elsewhere.

7. Co-ordinators report

Mrs Wakelin commented on the level of Spelling, punctuation and grammar in these reports and all agreed that using the LIP in the future would be a more effective and efficient way of updating on individual subjects. Mr Poultney stated that a succinct action plan would still be utilised per subject, which would be 'RAG rated' and could be utilised at FGB and monitoring meetings as appropriate.

8. Finance and Premises Committee

Dr Clements provided an update, stating that the overall budget position was healthier due to the staff changes and because of this additional funding had been allocated to Special Educational Needs & Disability (SENd) and Governor training. She also informed FGB that the capital budget had now been allocated and the committee were considering a number of projects including refurbishments to Class 2 and the DT area. Dr Browning stated that PR Associates had visited the school to consider these projects and produce outline costings.

9. Curriculum Committee

Mrs Wakelin provided an update from the last meeting, highlighting the teacher/governor training day on the new Ofsted framework and the ongoing difficulties of Governor monitoring, which would be picked up in the separate agenda item.

10. Data Committee

Dr Reading provided an update stating that SENd children were a concern and therefore that was now a priority on the LIP; also, given there were no children in reception at exceeding this would be an area of focus. She noted the improvement in attainment in year 2 and told FGB that a pre-meeting to the new Quality committee would take place to consider data in more detail and produce a summary report.

11. Governor monitoring

Governors provided brief updates on their visits. Dr Reading had performed a science visit and had highlighted some inconsistencies in marking; Dr Browning stated that staff had been briefed about this. Mrs Franks had conducted a Maths visit and had viewed children from all year groups and Mrs Wakelin had visited Mrs Dudfield and Mrs Irvine.

Dr Browning said that a new book review form had been utilised in school which may be of use in the future with some tweaking, she agreed to forward to Miss Ellis for reference when amending other monitoring guidance.

FGB discussed monitoring per class, as a more effective and efficient way of monitoring, highlighting this would also allow monitoring of the class teacher/s subject area; all Governors agreed this could work well and agreed to finalise this at the September FGB. Dr Browning did note that other monitoring would be required in order to monitor the 'learning journey' and FGB agreed this could be achieved by other visits to the school.

13. School strategy

FGB discussed the LIP and Dr Browning noted this had been shared with the teaching staff who were remaining at the school next term. She noted that Mrs Nightingale would be trained as the SENd coordinator and she had already taken steps to begin this role.

With regards to the factsheets Dr Clements challenged whether knowing 10 facts was sufficient for testing purposes and Dr Browning highlighted that topics would only be taught for 6 weeks, facts would be re-visited over the year and children would be expected to have retained this knowledge, so she believed the system was robust.

It was noted that the LIP replaces the School Development plan and termly coordinators reports. Dr Browning highlighted that the LIP would be a working document. She also stated that the 'Intent' as stipulated in the new Ofsted framework would evolve and change using data to drive the changes as the year progressed, FGB agreed this approach.

It was highlighted that the proposed safeguarding / child protection Educare training in the LIP was perhaps not the most effective use of Governors time and therefore Mr Poultney suggested that Mrs Dudfield could perhaps run a training session for Governors; this was agreed as being an excellent suggestion if Mrs Dudfield had the capacity to do.
